WHAT MACKENZIE IS ATTEMPTING TO DO

Trying to Push Forward to East of Ivangorod and Warsaw

HUN IS MOVING HIS FORCES TOWARD CHOLM

Russian Experts of Opinion Enemy's Drive in Galicia Has Been Stopped

Petrograd, July 2.—A sensational coup in the direction of Warsaw is being attempted by General von Mosenkozen, according to advices received late to-day at the war office. He has sent his main army toward Cholm Junction, on the Cholm-Brest Litovsk and Cholm-Ivangorod railways, with the apparent purpose of capturing the railroads upon which Ivangorod depends. Then, it is believed, he will try to advance to the railways reaching Warsaw, attempting to complete the investment of both Ivangorod and Warsaw.

The Russian forces are retiring in the direction of Cholm, but are resisting every foot of the way.

Berlin, July 2.—The German forces have reached the Russian positions at Krasnik, in the southern district of Russian Poland, according to an official statement issued to-day by the German army headquarters. The statement also says that the Russian forces in the region west of Zamosc have been driven back.

Petrograd, July 2.—That the German drive in Galicia has been checked definitely and finally is the opinion expressed here to-day by military experts. They now look for a great turning movement on the part of the Russians and predict that it will force the abandonment of the Teutonic offensive between the Wiepra and Bug rivers, where terrific fighting is in progress.

In their recent withdrawal from former positions in Galicia, the Russians materially shortened the distance necessary to transport reinforcements and ammunition. The Teutons have lengthened their lines of communication.

Reports from the front agree that there has been a noticeable slackening in the artillery fire of the Teutons, while, on the other hand, the Russian fire is increasing in intensity.

HEIGHTS CAPTURED BY ALLIED FORCES

Unofficial Dispatch Says Gain
Have Been Made on Gallipoli Peninsula

Athens, July 2.—Official confirmation of reports that the allies had captured Krithia was lacking to-day, but it definitely became known that several important heights at least had been captured from the Turks and enormous losses in men and munitions inflicted.

The Turkish casualties during the past ten days' fighting near Krithia are estimated at 12,000.

Supported by a heavy fire from the allies' warships, the French on Wednesday captured several lines of Turkish trenches and communicating tunnels.

The allied fleet, operating from the Gulf of Saros as well as at the entrance to the Dardanelles, inflicted damage upon the forts.

CANADIANS WERE IN ACTION ON JUNE 17

Ottawa, July 2.—The casualty list received since yesterday indicate that the Canadians were in action on June 17. The losses on that date included 36 killed, 4 wounded, 13 missing and 2 who were made prisoners of war by the Germans.

The third heaviest action in which the Canadians have taken part occurred on June 15, when the first and second battalions of the Royal Canadian Regiment were heavily engaged. Presently these battalions were relieved in the trenches by the third and fourth battalions, for the losses reported as having been sustained on June 17 were

The casualty lists have reached a total of 9,669. Of these 1,611 have been reported as killed in action, 6,360 as wounded and 1,698 as missing.

COL. BLETHEN ILL.

Seattle, July 2.—Col. Alden J. Blethen, editor of the Seattle Times, is holding his own to-day, having rallied yesterday. His condition is critical, however.

STUBBORN FIGHTING ON EASTERN LINE

Russians Have Inflicted Heavy Losses; Petrograd and Vienna Official Reports

Petrograd, July 2.—The following statement was issued last night by the Russian army headquarters:

"The enemy's offensive between the Wierpa and Bug rivers continues. Rear guard actions of the most stubborn character occurred here on June 19 on the Tomaszow and Zamose road, as well as on the roads to Sokol."
"In Galicia the enemy on June 29 and the morning of June 30 delivered persistent attacks in various sectors of the front from Kamionka-Strumitowa to Halicz. All his attacks were repulsed.
We inflicted great losses on the enemy and took 4,000 prisoners. The enemy was unable to make headway along the front of our trenches for a distance of several hundred paces, except in some sectors. On other fronts absolute calm prevails."

Vienna, July 2.—The following communication was issued last night by the war office:

"Battles in Eastern Galicia continued on July 1 on the Gnita Lipa and L. the region east of Lemberg. Our troops advanced in several places on the heights east of the Gnita Lipa and broke through hostile positions. The allied troops also succeeded after stubborn fighting in reaching the eastern bank of the Rohatyn."

"On the Dniester calm prevails. In the region of the source of the Wierpa we occupied Zamose. North of the Ta-new all lower lands are occupied."

"West of the Vistula our troops pursued the flying Russians up to Tarlow."
"The total booty taken during June by the allied troops during the fighting in the northeast comprises 521 officers and 194,000 men, 93 guns, 364 machine guns, 78 caissons, and 100 military railroad cars."

Geneva, July 2.—A Tribune dispatch from Innsbruck states that the Russians have received a new supply of high explosive shells. The Austro-Germans, the dispatch adds, have begun a general offensive between the region southeast of Lemberg and Pemyel, where the Russians are retiring slowly on Tarnopol, their artillery inflicting heavy losses on the enemy with their new ammunition.

HUNS USED GAS ON

FRONT IN ARGONNE

Were Driven Back, Says Official Report Issued at Paris

Paris, July 2.—The following communication was issued by the war office on Wednesday evening:

"On the banks of the Yser and to the north of Arras there have been artillery actions. The day was calm between the Oise and the Argonne."

"In the Argonne, after a bombardment lasting three days, the Germans attacked our positions on the road between Binerville and Le Four de Paris, but were repulsed twice. They succeeded only in their third attack in gaining a foothold in some parts of our line near Bagatelle, and they were thrown back everywhere else after a violent engagement."

"There has been a bombardment on the front north of Verdun, as well as in the region of Metzger."

Paris, July 2.—The following communication was issued by the war office last night:

"In the north the day has been relatively calm, although to the north of Arras the cannonade has been very violent."

"Before Domperre one of our mines demolished some of the enemy's work.
The cannonading has continued on the Aisne front."

"The Germans attacked on June 30 along the road between Binerville and Le Four de Paris with great energy, with the intention of penetrating our lines of defence. They reached our first trenches only by reason of the destruction caused by projectiles of heavy calibre, and by the employment of asphyxiating shells."

"The enemy was stopped, thanks to the solid condition of our second line, and driven back immediately by counter-attacks of our infantry, which established itself on a front about 200 yards distant from the destroyed works of our first line."

"The enemy's bombardment diminished to-day. Two new attacks were arrested immediately by our artillery."

"There was an artillery duel in the region of the Bois d'Ailly and Le Pretre forest."

"In the Vosges after the bombardment of Langenfeldskop and Heigen-first, two attacks were delivered against us by the enemy, but they were routed completely."

NO STREET LIGHTS
IN STAMBOUL NOW

Turks Must Find Their Way About in Inky Darkness: Correspondent's Description.

London, July 2.—By courtesy of the London Daily Express, a correspondent enabled to send the following description of present conditions in Constantinople by a special correspondent of the Express, who spent ten days in the Turkish capital and visited the war office.

"The people of London would not complain of the darkness of streets if they could see the darkness of Stam-boul, the Turkish part of the city. In Paris and Galata, where the foreign embassies and banks are situated, the city is normal, for the Turks know well that the allies would never attack that part of the city by air."

"In Stamboul pitch darkness prevails at night. Not a street light burns. The two great bridges over the Golden Horn, which form the only communication between Stamboul and Galata, share the same fate. It is said that this measure was taken after the attack by a British submarine. All commercial vessels and warships which were anchored in the Bosphorus before the attack have been transferred to the Golden Horn, where they remain closely guarded together."

WILL HUNS ATTACK
STEAMSHIP ADRIATIC?

New York, July 2.—The Tribune printed the following yesterday:

"Rumors in German circles yesterday predicted that the White Star liner Adriatic, which left on Wednesday for Liverpool with a large cargo of war material, munitions and motor cars consigned to the allies, has been marked for attack by German submarines.
Aside from being a floating arsenal, local Germans point out she is an especial mark because some prominent Britishers are among her passengers."

"Sir Robert Borden, prime minister of Canada, is one of the passengers, bound for London to consult with the British cabinet. Sir Robert is accompanied by Lady Borden and R. B. Bennett, M. P. for Calgary."

"Other passengers are Capt. F. Conway Jenkins, of the Royal British Aviation Corps; Dr. Chas. Sarolea, Belgian consul at Edinburgh, and a number of British army officers."

"The Adriatic, under ordinary circumstances, would have been in the Atlantic on Tuesday evening, July 1."

CHARGE DENIED.

New York, July 2.—The British consulate-general here disclaims any knowledge of inducements having been offered to United States soldiers and sailors to desert the American service for the British army and navy, as charged by a federal agent in San Francisco, who has been investigating recruiting activities in California.

Only 31 to Port Angeles and return.

FOUR VESSELS SUNK;
DESTROYER DAMAGED

Scottish Monarch, Thomas,
Marna and Sardomene
Sent to Bottom

London, July 2.—The British steamship Scottish Monarch, bound from New York for Liverpool with a cargo of sugar, was torpedoed and sunk on Tuesday by a German submarine. The crew of thirty-six men took to the life-boats. The crew and nineteen men were picked up near the Hook Point lightship, near Dunmore Harbor, Ireland, and were landed at Dunmore. A heavy sea was running at the time.

The captain of the Scottish Monarch says that his vessel was forty miles south of Ballycotton when, about two o'clock in the morning, two submarines were sighted. The steamship fled at full speed but soon was overhauled. The submarines commenced firing without warning.

The crew took to the boats and stood by until seven o'clock, when, after thirty-four shells had been fired, and the Scottish Monarch was afire fore and aft, she sank.

The Scottish Monarch was 400 feet long and was of 5,043 tons gross. She was built in 1904 and was owned by the Monarch Steamship company, of Glasgow. The vessel sailed from New York for England on June 16.

London, July 2.—The Norwegian steamer Marna, of Mandal, Norway, bound for Leith with a cargo of pit props, was sunk by a German submarine off Halesund, according to the Christiania correspondent of Reuters Agency. The Marna was 210 feet long and of 515 tons gross.

London, July 2.—The Italian ship
Sardomene, timber laden, was torpedoed without warning five miles from Castletown, Bearhaven, Ireland. Two of the crew were killed outright.

The Sardomene sailed from Bunbury on February 2 for London. She was a vessel of 2,000 tons gross.

London, July 2.—Word has been received from Castletown, Bearhaven, that nine of the Sardomene's crew were drowned and two others died of injuries. The mate is the only officer among the nine survivors, two of whom were wounded. After the submarine had fired on the Sardomene she disappeared within two minutes. The sailors had no opportunity of saving their lives, and but for the timely arrival of a patrol boat all would have been lost.

London, July 2.—The British steamship Thomas, 3,648 tons gross, bound from Argentina for Belfast with a cargo of corn, was sunk by a German submarine on Wednesday afternoon, sixty miles west of the Scilly Islands.

The submarine first fired two shots, presumably as a summons to stop, but the second shell struck the vessel, killing the second officer. The members of the crew took to the boats and were picked up by a Belgian trawler and landed at Milford Haven. The submarine sank the Thomas with torpedoes and shell fire.

London, July 2.—The torpedo boat destroyer Lightning was damaged on Wednesday night off the east coast by a mine or a torpedo explosion. She is in harbor. Fourteen members of the crew are reported as missing. Announcement that the Lightning had been damaged was contained in an official communication issued by the British admiralty last night.

MUNITIONS BILL PASSED
BY HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, July 2.—The House of Commons, after suspending the 11 o'clock rising rule, sat until midnight in order to put the munitions measure through the last stages.

An amendment limiting the government's power to settle by arbitration all labor disputes, together with other changes, was adopted.

In proposing a new clause transferring all powers possessed by the ordnance department of the war office to the new minister of munitions, Sir Henry Dalziel declared that the management of the department had been recognized as a national scandal.

Members of the House of Commons enlightened the House on the truth of the accusations.

David Lloyd George said that it was more important to guarantee that mistakes made in the past should not be perpetuated. He admitted that there had been serious mistakes of judgment, but he assured the House that the powers already given him were adequate to prevent a repetition of the mistakes.

After the minister's assurances, Sir Henry withdrew the proposed clause and the munitions bill passed through the remaining stages to a third reading.

PORFIRIO DIAZ IS DEAD; BORN IN 1830

ing resistance, and five days later assumed the executive power of Mexico, proclaiming himself provisional president. In April, 1877, he was elected constitutional president.

Then began a better day for Mexico. For three hundred years the unfortunate country had been under Spanish misrule, and during the first sixty years after its emancipation from the Spanish yoke, had been the scene of almost incessant domestic warfare and revolutions in which the land was drenched with blood and progress was practically impossible. It was at this stage that the strong hand of Porfirio Diaz assumed the control of Mexico's ship of state. The man whose whole previous career had been spent among revolutions and civil wars knew what course to adopt.

When his term of office expired in 1880, Diaz did not seek re-election, but secured the election of his secretary of war, Gen. Gonzalez. The latter was not able to cope with the difficulties and problems of the time and when he went out of office in 1884, leaving to his successor an enormous national debt and a disordered administration, the country was only too glad to have the strong hand of Diaz once more at the helm. He was elected with an overwhelming majority and remained at the head of the government until May 25, 1911, when he was forced to resign by the revolutionary movement headed by Francisco Madero.

After his re-election Diaz married Senora Dona Carmen Romero Rubio, daughter of Romero Rubio, who was one of Diaz's opponents, but was defeated by him and later became minister of the interior under Diaz.

During the last few years of his administration certain public officials aspiring to the presidency stirred up considerable ill feeling against Diaz and certain administrative evils which had developed in recent years finally led to an open revolutionary movement headed by Francisco Madero. The revolutionists defeated the government forces in a number of engagements in the northern part of the country and, finding his position untenable, Diaz resigned and, with his family, sailed for Europe, to remain there for the rest of his life.

MANY SENT MESSAGES TO SIR CHAS. TUPPER

London, July 2.—Sir Charles Tupper, the aged Canadian statesman, spent his 94th birthday quietly to-day at Bexley Heath. Considering his advanced age, the veteran enjoys good health.

On being visited by a correspondent he was found reading many congratulatory messages from different parts of the world. Sir Charles naturally is pleased with the way in which his birthday is remembered in different parts of the empire. Besides the message from Hon. W. T. White, acting prime minister of Canada, Sir Charles received messages from the British Columbia branches of the Daughters of the Empire and several members of the provincial governments of the Dominion.

passage of the fleet into the Sea of Marmora, and that would mean the end of the Ottoman empire in Europe. Bulgaria and Greece know, also, that if such a development arose without their intervention their chances of sharing in the territorial subdivision at the end of the war would be very remote. Hence we doubt very much if they will wait much longer. They certainly will not wait for the capture of Soghan Dere. The occupation of Atchi Baba will be sufficient to stir them to activity.

The activity of British submarines in the sea of Marmora is interfering very seriously with the character of Turkish resistance. The chief means by which the defending army on the Gallipoli peninsula is supplied, with munitions, food and reinforcements is by the sea route, and this has been radically restricted by our submarines, which have sunk a number of transports and supply vessels. The railroad line across the Bulair isthmus is under the fire of the fleet, so the only other way of communication with Constantinople is by the long route across the Bosphorus and through Asia Minor, involving the lighting of supplies across the straits to the peninsula. Between the attitude of Bulgaria and Greece, therefore, and the starvation tactics of our submarines the Turkish defence of Gallipoli peninsula is threatened with grave complications.

THE THRUST AT RUSSIA.

News dispatches to-day report some nervousness in London over the advance of the Austro-German armies between the Bug and Vistula rivers and fear is expressed that the condition of the Russian forces is more serious than was generally believed. The Austrians claim the occupation of Zamosc, a fortified town twenty miles north of the Galician frontier and thirty miles south of the Ivan-gorod-Lublin-Kieff railway, and it is feared that if the advance is unchecked that line will be cut. Brest Litovsk, Russia's great concentration depot on the Bug river attacked and the whole line of the Vistula, including Novo Georgievsk, Warsaw and Ivan-gorod, made untenable.

This indeed would be serious, for it would enable the Germans to secure themselves against the Russians for an indefinite period and to dispatch enormous reinforcements to the west, removing to a large extent the margin of numerical superiority the allies have in that quarter. In fact if the Teutons captured the Vistula line by continuing their present progress along the rear of it the war would be prolonged to such an extent that an inconclusive peace might ensue.

But the Teutonic advance has not reached that stage of sombre import to us, and we will hazard the opinion that it never will. We should bear in mind a number of well established facts in connection with this campaign. In the first place the Russian armies are intact, and are now being reorganized within easy access of their main bases, where vast reserves of men are mobilized. Secondly the Teutons, especially those advancing between the two great rivers, are getting away from their bases, extending their lines of communication, and are practically without railroad connection with Pomerania and Lemberg. Before many days the problem of obtaining sufficient supplies of food and munitions will be a very serious one to the invaders.

Another significant circumstance is the fact that so far only rear-guard resistance, though daily becoming stronger, is being offered by the Russians. In eastern Galicia, however, the Slavs have checked the German and Austrian advance and this seems to point to an ultimate Russian offensive very similar to that which resulted in the conquest of Galicia last August and September. Then, as now, it will be recalled, the Austrians marched northward from Galicia, between the Bug and Vistula rivers with the object of isolating the Vistula line and striking at the main concentration depots along the main concentration depots along the Bug. Then, as now, the invaders met with only rear-guard resistance until in fact they almost reached the Lublin railroad. At that point they were attacked in force while armies under Dimitrieff and Brussloff assailed the enemy through southeast Galicia, rolled up his right flank, occupied Lemberg and striking north threatened the rear of the main Austrian army that had been lured towards Lublin. Had the Austrians been drawn a few miles farther into Russian territory not a corporal's guard would have escaped. It is not unlikely that the Russians are attempting a similar coup, but this time they are not only in a position to penetrate far enough to make the possibility of an overwhelming catastrophe more certain.

Russian military writers are disposed to criticize the western allies for their failure to make more than local attempts to relieve the pressure in the east, but it is altogether probable that there is a definite understanding between the allied higher command on the east, west and Italian fronts. A premature offensive by the western allies would react disastrously upon Russia if it failed, because its failure would enable the Germans to send still more men to that front. The western allies evidently are determined to mass such a weight of men and material that there will be no possibility of failure. In spite of the progress of the Teutonic advance the critical moment for Russia plainly has not yet arrived, or official reports would show increased activity by the allies in the west, as well as the opening of the real and vital conflict between Slav and Teuton in the east.

THE ARMENIAN CASE.

Although the loss of a number of Americans through the sinking of the Armenian will add fuel to the flame of resentment lighted in the United States by the Lusitania atrocity, it is not likely to affect the official relations between the two countries, according to present reports of the vessel's status. The Armenian was under charter to the British government and was carrying absolute contraband. When accosted by enemy submarines she endeavored to escape and was subjected to a severe shell fire, which killed a number of the crew.

The captain, no doubt, thought he stood a good chance of eluding the enemy, but unless his ship could do better than 20 knots such an attempt would be doomed to failure. The latest type of sea-going submarine can make that speed on the surface, and as it carries quick-firing guns it has a slow-going merchantman at its mercy. Possibly had the Armenian been armed she would have kept the submarine at a distance, but in that case she would not have obtained clearance from an American port. Notwithstanding the technical aspect of the case, however, the great majority of the American public will be further embittered against Germany by the loss of American lives and will sharply scrutinize the course pursued by Washington in the negotiations now in progress in connection with the Lusitania and other outrages.

The German note in reply to Washington's last communication probably will be dispatched from Berlin in three or four days. We can forecast its contents with little effort of the imagination. It will be couched in terms of extreme courtesy and will agree to respect American life and property if it can be done without diminishing the effectiveness of the German submarine warfare against Great Britain. But President Wilson demanded guarantees that American lives and property shall not be molested, and these cannot be given without a public renunciation by Germany of the campaign officially proclaimed by von Tirpitz last February, the essential feature of which was the destruction of shipping without visit and search when deemed convenient. As the aim of the German policy is to cut off all intercourse between Great Britain and other countries, the only way in German opinion in which the submarine policy could be effective, compliance with Washington's demands is unlikely to be promised.

Herr Dernburg, according to a press dispatch, was overcome by a fit of nervous prostration when the ship upon which he was consigned to Germany was taken by a British patrol vessel into the harbor of Kirkwall. The doctor was bold enough when preaching the ethics of Kultur in the United States, which included a defence of the sinking of the Lusitania; but became as timid as a mouse when he found himself in the hands of the kinsmen of the women and children whose cold-blooded murder he had justified. There was but a "scrap of paper" between him and internment, with a possibility of arraignment as accessory to assassination. But Britain had given an undertaking and she has not ceased to respect instruments to which she appends her signature. Consequently the trembling defender of Kultur was dispatched to his destination.

Washington is reported to be renewing its protest against the use of the United States flag by British shipping. While there is no national or international prohibition of this expedient of flying neutral ensigns, which, by the way, has been resorted to by American vessels when their country was at war, it seems to have amounted to little more than a waste of effort. Certainly if the American flag did not safeguard the property of the American ships Cushing and Guilford and the American lives aboard of them, it can afford no protection to any British vessel.

Another very promising career was brought to a premature end with the death of John Stevenson, son of Rev. Wm. Stevenson, of Victoria. The young man was a student of the Victoria School, carrying off in his year all the honors in the McGill matriculation examinations, not only for British Columbia but for the Dominion of Canada. His death is a sad blow to his parents, to whom we extend sincere expressions of sympathy.

Sorrowfully announcing that the day of civic joyriding is over, the Vancouver city council is getting farther down to brass tacks by placing all municipal employees on two-thirds

DUNCAN ROSS.

The late Duncan Ross, whose tragically sudden death took place on Wednesday evening, was taken while at the zenith of his powers and with a career of great promise still before him. Not that his life, as far as it was permitted to run, was barren of achievement. Ardent of temperament and overflowing with energy and enthusiasm, Mr. Ross commanded success in every field of enterprise in which he elected to exercise his talents. He was an enthusiastic and versatile newspaper man. Elected a member of the House of Commons while still a youth compared with the great majority of his fellow-members, he made his mark there by the vigor and originality of his debating powers and the sturdy independence of his opinions. But while holding strong views on public questions and striking hard when he thought the occasion required it, there never was anything mean or venomous behind the blows of Duncan Ross. He participated prominently in many a vigorous campaign, but he was personally so generous, open-handed and big-hearted, so free from the petty qualities that tend to embitter public life, that his opponents respected and esteemed him. There are no expressions of appreciation of his fine qualities as a man or of genuine regret at his untimely end more generous than those of his erstwhile political adversaries. The suddenness of the blow, while a terrible shock to his family and friends, may be softened appreciably by the affectionate tributes from all sources, in some instances from unexpected quarters, to his memory. To his stricken widow and children such expressions cannot but prove a real consolation in their day of sorrow.

AT THE DARDANELLES.

Athens reports the capture by the allies of Krithia, on the Gallipoli peninsula, and although the rumor has not been confirmed officially, Sir Ian Hamilton's cheering report of the marked progress made by the British troops on June 27 and 28 paves the way for such an announcement. The occupation of the village and heights of Krithia would be a most important strategic gain, being in the nature of a breach in the first line of hill fortifications known as the line of Atchi Baba, which stretches northwest and southeast across the peninsula. The capture of Krithia would not mean that the line of Atchi Baba had fallen, but it would give the allies a commanding position from which to pursue their advance effectively. Behind the line of Atchi Baba, however, is another formidable Turkish position, known as Soghan Dere. This is in the form of a bow, the ends resting on the straits on both entrances of the narrows. But while this position in a physical sense is stronger than the other, it is exposed to attack from more directions. It could be attacked from the north, west and south, while its extreme left flank, resting on the strait just at the southern entrance to the narrows, could be turned by the fleet.

Under ordinary circumstances the capture of the heights of Krithia would be only an important preliminary step towards a much heavier task, but other considerations magnify several fold the value of such a capture made by the allies. The attitude of Bulgaria and Greece is influenced by the progress of the campaign at the Dardanelles more than by the military situation in Galicia and Poland. These countries know that as soon as the lines of Atchi Baba and Soghan Dere are broken the allies will be practically in possession of the strait, for those positions dominate the forts of the narrows and the Turkish defensive works on the low-lying terrain on the Asiatic side. A few days' delay in clearing the strait of mines and other obstructions would be followed by the

This means that only two deliveries in the business section, and one in the residential sections, in the morning, will be given on Saturdays during the next two months. Other departments of the post office will operate as usual on Saturdays.

The sale was one of a series of regular events of the kind which have been held weekly for the past five weeks, as the result of which the Red Cross funds will benefit to the extent of about $132. The kid kindly given by Mrs. Dodds, and the setter pup given by G. Moutat brought in a considerable amount.

Victoria Club Garden Party.—On Saturday, July 10, a garden party will be held under the auspices of the Victoria club at the beautiful grounds kindly lent by the Misses Tolmie at their home, Cloverdale avenue, for the purpose. The spacious gardens are admirably suited to the arrangements for such an event, and room will be found for many out-of-door contests, tennis tournament, croquet, etc. There will be a concert in the evening which should prove a great attraction, and a big attendance of members and their friends as well as the general public is hoped for.

Belgian Relief.—An interesting report of the Belgian Relief work, carried forward by the Belgium Relief Fund committee during the past month, was submitted at the meeting of the committee held on Wednesday evening, W. S. Terry reading the report. A discussion took place as to whether the Fort Street rooms should be kept open any longer, and the meeting approved the motion that it be continued throughout July. A member pointed out the pressing need in connection with the Belgian Relief situation in England, where another fund had been started. Cash donations and clothing are still coming in at the local headquarters, and a further shipment of useful articles has lately been made to the Montreal depot to send to the old country.

Make Wrong Use of Lifebuoys.—Complaint is made to Supt. Campbell, of the provincial police, that boys are misusing the lifebuoys which have been placed at and near the Gorge bridge for the assistance of people who may be in danger in the water. There were seven new buoys placed in position on May 24, but only one of these was remaining last week. Four more were put there on Saturday to replace the missing ones, and since then boys who swim in that vicinity have been seen playing with them in the water. In some cases the buoys have been put back with the ropes attached to the edges torn loose. A warning is issued by the superintendent to the public generally that use of them for any but the purpose for which they are intended will render the offender liable to serious consequences.

THANKS TO WORKERS

No Formal Report of Red Cross Work to Be Published This Week but Help Appreciated.

There will be no formal report of the Red Cross work this week, owing to the holiday, but the committee desire to thank all those kind friends who helped yesterday and at other times during the week by taking up collections at excursions; also Captain Allen, who allowed the band of H. M. S. Kent to give an entertainment in aid of the Red Cross work yesterday. Special thanks are due to Mr. Jackson who, through permitting the use of the Empress ballroom for the exhibition of Red Cross work earlier in the week, did much to give an impetus to the undertaking, many who had not previously shown an active interest having sent liberal contributions since seeing the character of the work done. One of the features of that exhibition, which pleased the committee in charge most of all was the very general representation of interested visitors from up-land points and other outlying districts, Duncan, Cowichan, Quamichan lake, Ladysmith, Nanaimo and intervening places.

The committee wish to place on record their appreciation of the splendid services given by several of the ladies who have attended unfailingly at the headquarters, Temple building, guiding and directing the work, and putting in a full day's service each day of the week. Their example should incite many others to a like sense of responsibility, and their services are solicited in order to relieve slightly those who have given such yeoman help.

DELIGHTFUL SUMMER DRINKS

Many Tempting Beverages From the Same Bottle.

One of the very pleasant features of a bottle of Montserrat Lime Fruit Juice is its versatility. The ordinary Montserrat beverage is made with half a wineglassful of Montserrat, some sugar, broken ice and a glassful of water. This is delightful and quenches the thirst. Another Montserrat beverage can be made by using soda-water instead of plain water. It gives a little more snap. Golfers like it. Montserrat can also be used instead of lemons for flavoring frozen punches and ice creams.

Montserrat is not common Lime Juice. It is pressed from fresh cultivated limes from the beautiful island of Montserrat.

Phoenix Beer, $1.50 per doz. quarts.

Flower Service.—Next Sunday morning a flower service will be held at the James Bay Methodist church, when the interior will be decorated with the beautiful bloom for which Victoria is so famous. The pastor will speak on the theme "With God Among the Flowers." In the evening there will be a musical service and the choir will render a service of song consisting of solos, duets, quartettes and anthems. The pastor will give a brief address on the subject, "The Place of Music in Public Worship."

Rev. Dr. Campbell officiated at the wedding of Emily, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fisherwood, of Nanaimo, and William Downie Patterson, of Salt Spring Island, on Wednesday, the ceremony taking place at "Breadalbane," the residence of the officiating minister. The bride, who wore a handsome dress of turquoise blue, was attended by Miss Cecilia Robertson, who, as bridesmaid, was attired in white. The best man was James William Gill. A reception took place later at the home of Mrs. J. Marshall, 1648 Fell street, the reception rooms of which were daintily decorated with sweep peas and carnations. Many beautiful presents were received by the bride and bridegroom, who will make their home at Salt Spring Island on their return from their honeymoon.

"Wouldn't you try to get a divorce from a woman who abused you and neglected your home, and thought more of her club than she did of you?" thundered the big man. "I don't think I would," replied Henry Peck; "I am afraid Henrietta would not let me."

It was the half-hour after dinner, and a group of workmen were passing the time with a political argument. An interesting deadlock had been reached, when one of the men on the losing side turned to a mate who had remained silent during the whole of the debate. "Here, Joe," he said, "you're pretty good at a argument. What's your opinion? 'I ain't goin' to say,'" said Joe. "I thrashed the matter out afore, artfully, hoping to entice him into a fray," and what did you arrive at?" "Well," said Joe, "Jim 'e arrived at the 'ospital, an' I arrived at the police station."

A negro preacher once said to his congregation: "My brethren, when the first man, Adam, was created, he was made of dirt. He was made of dirt, and dirt is to dry up. 'Dirt you say,' said one of the congregation, rising to his feet, 'dat Adam was made of wet clay an' set up agin the palm's to dry.'" "Yes, sar, I do," "Den who made de palm's?" "Set down, sar," said the preacher, sternly; "such question as dat would upset any system of theology."

The young man hesitated to believe the statement of her little brother that the young lady was not at home. He repeated the question, at the same time displaying a shilling. The boy eyed it longingly and again replied in the negative. "But didn't she leave a message for me?" asked the disappointed avain. "Yes," said the lad, and nothing more. "As one who sees a great light, the young man tossed him the coin. "Now," he said, "out with the message. 'She said she's not going to see you any more, and you're not to give me any money.'"

Girl Shopper—"Why did you make that poor salesman pull down all that stuff and then not buy anything?" Second ditto—"Why, the mean fellow was in a car yesterday and never offered me his seat, though I looked right at him; so I just decided I would get even."

Johnny Jones, the office boy, had been detected in a lie. "Do you know, my lad," asked a fatherly clerk, in a kindly fashion, "what becomes of young lads who trifle with the truth?" "Aye," was the assured reply; "bosses send them out as travelers when they get even."

NEW PATRIOTIC SONG

Authoress of "The Little Emerald Isle" Receives Acknowledgment From Earl Kitchener.

Many have already heard "The Little Emerald Isle," an appealing song the words and music of which are by Mrs. Bayfield, who is now visiting in Victoria. The song was sung here several weeks ago by "Bob" Albright, who had a week's engagement here on the Pantheas circuit, and made a tremendous "hit" with the audiences who heard it at that time. The verses are tinged with the romance of the folk of "the old sod," and have a pretty sentiment. Their attractiveness has been recognized by the Edmonton Daily Bulletin and other Northwest papers, as well as in notices in the Vancouver press, the song having been sung in the last-named city recently at one of the meetings of the Canadian club.

Mrs. Bayfield, the composer and author, sent a copy of the song to Lord Kitchener, and received the following acknowledgment from his private secretary, H. J. Cready:

"I am desired by Lord Kitchener to thank you for the copy of your song entitled 'The Little Emerald Isle,' which you were so good as to send him."

Lieut.-Col. Harwood, commanding the 51st battalion, C. O. E. F., wrote from the barracks at Edmonton acknowledging the song which had been presented. His letter was as follows:

"It is with great pleasure that I received the song 'The Little Emerald Isle,' and prize it all the more knowing the composer so well. I have placed it on the mess piano of the regiment, and do not be at all surprised if you hear the boys singing it as they march through the streets."

The song is being sold by Mrs. Bayfield, who is now visiting in the city.

PITHY PARAGRAPHS

"Well, Jimmy! Yer won't" demanded a loyal supporter of the Backstreet Swifts who had been unable to attend the match. "O' course we won't!" replied the somewhat damaged Jimmy, reluctantly. "I can't say as I 'xactly kicked a goal, but"—brightening perceptibly—"I kicked three forwards, a 'arf back, the goalkeeper, and 'the referee! So I reckon I done my best."

A matron of the most determined character was encountered by a young woman reporter on a country paper, who was sent out to interview leading citizens as to their politics. "May I see Mr.?" she asked of a stern-looking woman who opened the door at the house. "No, you can't," answered the matron, decisively. "But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded the girl. The woman drew up her tall figure. "Well, take a good look at me," she said, "I'm the party he belongs to."

Jenny, aged 15, a candidate for the intermediate certificate, was ill, and confined to bed for a few days before the examination. To her brother Tommy, aged 9, she expressed her anxiety about the examination, and confided she had prayed to God to help her. Next day, Tommy remarked to his mother that Jenny had a good chance of passing her examination. "Why so?" asked the mother. "Well, she has God on her side, she has a good head, and she has father's fountain pen."

"But, my dear girl, what shall we live on?" Bertie had protested, when his sweetheart had suggested that the wedding might be hastened. "You know I've got absolutely nothing," "Now, don't you worry," the resourceful maid had answered. "I'll get round daddy all right. Besides, he can afford it." Daddy had quite different views on the matter; but the woman, as generally happens, eventually won the day, and in due course the wedding party wended their way churchwards. As Bertie, in a manly voice, spoke the words, "With all my worldly goods I thee endow," a loud guffaw came from the bride's father. "Good gracious!" he exclaimed, in a stage whisper. "He's chucking away his cigarette case!"

Solicitor (to hostile witness)—"Why did you hide Maloney in your house on that Saturday night?" Witness—"I did not see him at all on that night."

Solicitor—"Will you swear your wife did not hide Maloney on that night?" Witness (hesitatingly)—"Ye-es."

Solicitor—"Will your wife swear that she did not hide Maloney in your house on that night?" Witness (still hesitatingly)—"Well—I don't think—so."

Solicitor—"Ah! And perhaps you can tell the court how it is you can swear your wife did not hide him while she cannot swear the same thing. Speak up, now, and tell the truth!" Witness—"Well, you see, I'm not married!"

It was the half-hour after dinner, and a group of workmen were passing the time with a political argument. An interesting deadlock had been reached, when one of the men on the losing side turned to a mate who had remained silent during the whole of the debate. "Here, Joe," he said, "you're pretty good at a argument. What's your opinion? 'I ain't goin' to say,'" said Joe. Next Monday night will be gift night, when each purchaser of a twenty-five cent ticket will receive two numbers each, giving a chance for any one of twenty prizes. With each 15c ticket one number will give a chance to win any one of the prizes. Tickets purchased during other nights will give a chance for a grand prize to be given away on Saturday night of next week. Tomorrow afternoon a matinee performance of "The House of a Thousand Candles" will be given.

"QUALITY STREET."

One of the great charms of "Quality Street," which will be seen at the Royal Victoria theatre to-night is the skill with which Barrie has drawn a number of quaint and lovable characters. The author placed his scenes in a quiet little place in England in the long ago, and the comedy might be termed a Georgian one, but it is by no means artificial. The human note in it saves it from any such designation. The innocent little intrigue, whereby a mellowing spinster recaptures her lover on his return from the Napoleonic wars by pretending to be her own niece, Sir James Carried out with grace, sweetness and a sympathetic touch that makes the comedy as fresh and appealing as when it was first given several years ago. Throssell is said to be one of the best roles that Sir James has given Maude Adams to portray and at all events it is one in which she has greatly pleased her immense following.

VARIETY THEATRE.

The high-class motion pictures being exhibited at the Variety theatre are responsible for packed houses despite the warm weather. The theatre is very cool and comfortable and patrons can be assured of seeing an excellent show in absolute comfort.

The programme for to-day and tomorrow includes Mary Pickford in "How Mary Fixed It," "Blue Blood and Yellow Backs," a rip-roaring two-part comedy featuring Harry Gribbon, star of a thousand laugh-provokers. "The Oath of Smoky Joe" is a gripping three-act drama of the west. Something new in the motion picture line is presented in "The Panzer Troupe," which shows big vaudeville acts in motion pictures. Charlie Chaplin will be shown again to-day and to-morrow in addition to the regular big show, in his latest comedy success, "By the Sea."

After the Zeppelin raid on Tyneside, precautions were taken to have as little light from shops, street lamps, etc., with the result that some of the nights are very dark. It was one of these nights that Geordie, who had joined a Tyneside battalion was doing sentry duty, and he adopted a new plan. "Hallo, what's the meaning of this," shouted the officer, on seeing Geordie walking up and down backwards. "Wey, sor," stammered Geordie, "ye nivvor knas who's cummin' up behind ye these dark neets."

A line of ragged little boys was ranged down the centre of the school for exercise. "Toe the line!" commanded the master. A shuffling indicated the line apparently until his eye rested on an urchin so far behind the others as to be almost out of sight. "Price," he shouted, "Why don't you toe the line?" "Pieath, thir, I am toeing it," lisped the boy, "but I got dad'th boot'n on!"

A gallant Tommy, having received from England an anonymous gift of socks, entered them at once, for he was about to undertake a heavy march. He was soon prey to the most excruciating agony, and when, a mere cripple, he drew off his footgear at the end of a terrible day, he discovered inside the toe of the sock what had once been a piece of stiff writing paper, now reduced to pulp, and on it appeared in bold, feminine hand the almost illegible benediction: "God bless the wearer of this pair of socks!"

RUSSIA'S FLAG.

Not a few people are making the mistake of flying in Russia's honor the picturesque yellow flag with the double eagle, under the impression that it is our ally's national flag. This flag, however, is really the imperial standard, while the white flag with the blue St. Andrew's Cross is the Russian naval ensign. The latter is used only by the navy, and is not allowed to be flown by private individuals.

The Russian national flag, which should be used in this country by people who wish to show their admiration for Russia, is a tri-color, white, blue and red stripes, placed longitudinally.

There is, indeed, a remarkable similarity between the flags of the allies. France, Russia and Serbia all employ the same three colors, only the arrangement differing. In regard to the flags of Russia and Serbia, it may be pointed out that as the colors are the same, a Serbian flag upside down would be the Russian and vice versa. Belgium flies a tri-color with the colors vertically, as in the case of the French flag. The Belgian colors, black, gold and red, are said to symbolize the emergence of the country from darkness into light through blood and fire—a most appropriate device.

Plunger—"I felt awfully sorry for a poor fellow down at the exchange to-day. He lost five thousand on cotton, and all the boys were gawping him, and as he started off home, they taunted him with the prediction that his wife would land on him roughshod. The poor chap acted as though he felt pretty badly about it." Mrs. Plunger (sympathetically)—"Poor fellow! No doubt he used his best judgment, and if his wife turns on him because of his reverses, she is not worthy to be called wife. But who was the man?" Plunger—"Why—er—it—was—me."

An inhabitant of Cologne has been fined £3 for giving war bread to his dog. The proceedings were instituted, we understand, at the instance of the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.—Punch.

VANCOUVER ELEVEN WON CLOSE CONTEST

Two Runs Was Margin That Beat Victoria in Inter-City Cricket Match

Victoria bowlers made a fine stand at Vancouver yesterday, going down to defeat at the hands of the mainland eleven by the narrow margin of two runs. The Victoria team registered 156 in their first turn at the wicket, while Vancouver managed to put together 158. The teams were unable to finish the second innings, so that the Mainlanders carried off the honours. The fielding was very keen on both sides, Lea, of Victoria, making the most sensational catch of the day. Lea and Whitford also bowled in much better style than the Vancouver transfer, but the latter were backed up by superb fielding.

Capt. Birch and H. E. Orr made a fine start for two-thirds of the Victoria total. Orr bowled 10 balls while Capt. Birch had 6. Messrs. Kesteven and Chappinon also batted well in Victoria's second innings.

It was a decisive victory over the University School, yesterday afternoon, winning 20 to 50. May and Lea, of the Five C's club, were top scorers with 61 and 41 respectively. Sparks, of the school, was the only batsman to be out. Greely, of the school, bowled 10 balls.

The winners totalled 32.

Wanderers won a well played game with the Navy eleven at the Canteen grounds, 155 to 118. Lawrence, with 30, topped the batsmen, Knight, of the Navy team, scoring 28.

MAJOR LEAGUE SCOUT VISITS CAPITAL

KINSELLA HOPES FOR BASEBALL PEACE

McKenry Falls Down With New York Giant Agent in Stand; Seattle and Vancouver Divide Double-Header

Dick Kinsella, the celebrated baseball scout, occupied a seat in the grand stand yesterday and witnessed the downfall of Frank McKenry in the afternoon battle. McKenry was the chief object of Kinsella's visit, and the disastrous showing of the tall left twirler was rather disconcerting to Kinsella's plans. The New York Giant, gum-shoe agent was prepared to make a cash offer for McKenry, but because of the latter's poor display will wait until he has had another chance to view McKenry in action. Kinsella thought it a pity that the present Victoria ball park was so small, and stated after the game that the short centre field fence was undoubtedly a big handicap to the pitchers of both clubs. He thought that with a big park McKenry would have won the afternoon fixture, as it was the drives over the fence that caused the trouble.

Kinsella left for Seattle after the game, but he intends to pick up several players from this league. He likes George Kelly's actions around the first sack, and will probably purchase the release of outfielder Ken Williams of Spokane. There are several really fine prospects on the Seattle club, while Catcher Stevens, of Tacoma, also took his fancy yesterday. Kinsella stated that the big league clubs were through paying fancy prices for players and said that unless the baseball was ended that the minor leagues would have to go out of business. The sale and drafting of players was the only chance that the small club owners had of breaking even, so that unless the squabble was straightened out in a hurry the game as a whole would suffer.

Aberdeen, July 2.—After pitching eight innings with only one hit, Clark allowed Spokane three singles in the ninth and this won them a 2 to 1 victory over Aberdeen. Brilliant fielding by both infields featured the game.

Score—R. H. E.
Aberdeen 1 8 2
Spokane 2 4 2
Batteries—Clark and Vance; Callahan and Brennehan.

Vancouver, B. C., July 2.—Vancouver and Seattle broke even on the games yesterday. The leavers winning the morning game by a score of 3 to 1, while Seattle took the evening match, 9 to 7. Both games were marked by free hitting and loose fielding.

Score—R. H. E.
Vancouver 7 13 5
Seattle 8 11 2
Batteries—Thompson, Brand and Brotem; Rose and Cadman.

Morning game—R. H. E.
Vancouver 3 9 3
Seattle 1 12 0
Batteries—Smith and Cheek; Eastley and Barth.

Seattle, July 2.—Big things were doing yesterday afternoon in local baseball circles. The Seattle Baseball club for the first time in its history entered into a working agreement with a big league organization, three players were disposed of to take effect at the close of the present season, and negotiations are on for the disposal of the fourth.

In letting St. Louis have Smith, Seattle tossed off a chance to grab a good hunk of money. Pittsburgh wanted Smith and Cincinnati was also after him.

Pitcher Pat Eastley gets his chance to try the big league because President Dugdale was under obligation to Connie Mack, who turned Pitcher Al Gipe over to Seattle.

Walter Malls, the young left-hander, is to get a trial at Brooklyn. No doubt Dell put in a boost for the young pitcher.

Forster Barth is the fourth member of the Seattle club who is going up. Just where he is going has not yet been decided, as three clubs are dickering for him and the deal has not yet been closed.

BENEFIT GYMKHANA

J. MCCLEAVE

The well known Victoria riding instructor, who was prominent in yesterday's gymkhana at the Willows, having entries in nearly all of the saddle events. Mr. McCleave is the owner of sixteen of the finest thoroughbreds in the Northwest, and is a keen worker in the interests of the Victoria Matinee club.

LEAGUE RECORD GOES TO TIGERS

Leafs Unable to Hold Bengal Sluggers; McKenry Beaten in Two Games

Tacoma won both games from the Leafs yesterday, their terrific hitting giving their twirler an easy time. McKenry is credited with both defeats. He started the morning game, only to be knocked out of the box in the first inning, while in the second class punk sup-por gave the decision to foxy Dick Kaufman. On the day the Tigers rolled up forty-six base hits, probably a league record. Tacoma's fine fielding featured the afternoon contest.

HOLIDAY GYMKHANA COMPLETE SUCCESS

Lengthy Programme Affords Great Sport at Willows Track Yesterday Afternoon

Perfect weather and a splendid holiday crowd, together with a really excellent programme of track and show events, combined to make yesterday's benefit gymkhana at the Willows one of the finest ever staged in the capital. The meet, which was under the auspices of the Victoria Matinee club, was pulled off without a hitch, and quite a bit of money will be turned into the coffers of the Red Cross fund as a result of this club's efforts. The sport could not have been better, every race being keenly contested, while there was not a dull moment during the entire afternoon.

Featuring the programme were the special events put on by the Victoria squadron, B. C. Horse. For a new troop, Major Henneker's proteges certainly showed up in splendid style, their horsemanship and soldierly appearance making a big hit with the crowd. It was the first public appearance of the local squadron, and the B. C. Horse has gained hundreds of admirers by its successful debut. The horse show events were carried on in the centre ring, the costly turnouts being a credit to the capital. Dixi Ross, P. Burns and J. McCleave divided the main honors in these events.

The harness events brought out some fine trotters and pacers, the heats being watched with great interest. San Lucas Maid won the pacing to carts, while Myrtle Mae captured the trotting to carts. Al. B. and MacFoster the field in the second pacing event. Messrs. Henderson, Henney, McCleave and Miss Gouge contributed the ribbon winners in the flat racing, large fields facing the starter for each race.

TALENTED SCHOLAR SUMMONED BY DEATH

John Stevenson, One of Most Promising Students in Dominion, Died This Morning

One of the most promising scholars who ever passed through the local schools passed away at 2 o'clock this morning in the person of John Stevenson, youngest son of the Rev. William Stevenson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church, and Mrs. Stevenson. Mr. Stevenson had been feeling somewhat unwell for about a week before closing his school at Camagana (Vernon district), where he had been teaching for the past year, but held on pluckily with the intention of taking over some examination papers here during the first week of the summer holidays. On his arrival here on Sunday night, however, Dr. Ernest Hall was summoned and ordered his immediate removal to St. Joseph's hospital, Dr. Raynor later being called in consultation. But the disease which he fought so long mastered and death came at an early hour this morning, cutting off before he had passed out of his teens one of the most gifted young men of the province.

The late John Stevenson was born in London, England, on July 14, 1895, and came to this province nine years ago with his parents and other members of the family. During his attendance both at the public and high schools here he showed all the evidences of a brilliant and scholarly career, matriculating in June, 1912, with signal honors, leading not only the list of candidates from the Victoria High school and from the province, but coming out first for the whole Dominion. The same year he won the governor-general's silver medal. In the two succeeding years he followed the McGill University course here, there also showing fine qualities as student, and maintaining his high standing. Last September he went up to the Okanagan as a teacher in the Camagana school, and it was just at the conclusion of his duties there that he experienced the first symptoms of the trouble which ultimately brought about his death.

It was perhaps as a student in the High school that he will be best recalled by those who knew him. Editor of the school magazine for two years, he was also a member of the Debating society, and won the Beta Delta pin for proficiency in public speaking. In the years 1913 and 1914 he played on the College hockey team, in all his activities displaying an enthusiasm which made him popular with his school fellows and masters alike.

Mr. Willis, principal of the High school, recognized in him one of the most distinguished students who had ever passed through the classes, and this morning expressed his grief that so promising a lad should have been taken so early. Both in his school work and in the more personal relationship of friend he had always been in close touch with the young scholar, and found him a lad of splendid character, great ability, and excellent promise. Superintendent Paul, who had followed his school and subsequent career with more than usual interest, also expressed his regret.

The deceased survived besides his parents, with whom the sincerest sympathy is felt, by two other brothers and two sisters. The funeral will take place on Monday from Emmanuel Baptist church, at 2 p.m., Rev. F. W. Auvache, of Hamilton, to conduct the services.

ITALIANS AT RHODES.

In landing on Rhodes the Italians are renewing a military acquaintance with the island which began in the thirteenth century, and under the sovereignty of Venice lasted for half a century. It would not be easy to name a more romantic island. The Crusades alone give it all it needs in historic wealth; but when the Colossus, the Rhodian law system, and the wonderful sculptures and reputed great paintings are thrown in Rhodes will stand no rival. Rhodes, as Great Britain is to-day, was at one time the greatest naval power in the world. It was Rome that shattered her power. Rome to-day is preparing to free her from the Turkish tyrant, who fixed himself upon the island in 1522, and has remained the master ever since. The famous Colossus, one of the "seven wonders" of the world, no longer exists, and the traditions of the island's greatness are slowly being exploded, thus destroying another cherished delusion of childhood. The harbor itself, through Turkish neglect, has become too much silted-up to admit large vessels, and this lends an element of excitement to travelers touching the port, because when a high sea is running boats cannot reach the steamer. In such cases, if the traveler is lucky enough not to get carried on to Alexandria, he will probably be rowed ashore by two Greeks, two Turks, an Italian and a Jew, a motley crew representative of the mixed population. Safely landed, a patriotic Briton feels pardonable pride when he finds himself confronted with a hill bearing the good old English name of Mount Smith. It is called because the house that crowns the summit was the birthplace of the Sydney Smith in 1592.

ECCENTRIC SHELL

A curious story is told of the ill-fated Triumph's first attack on the Turkish forts. In the course of a furious bombardment at close quarters, the range at one time being no more than 1,500 yards, a shell pierced the Triumph's quarter-deck, setting fire to the woodwork in and about the captain's cabin. But the same shell had the presence of mind to burst the bathroom water-pipes, and thus extinguish the flames it had just ignited.

HOLIDAY SPENT HERE IN IDEAL WEATHER

High Temperature of 82 Degrees Lasted Yesterday From 11 a. m. to 5.30 p. m.

Ideal weather throughout the province gave British Columbia residents every favoring condition in this way for the celebration of the holiday yesterday. Victoria was particularly fortunate in having the highest temperature yet this summer, and there was a general exodus of the population to the seaside resorts where the unusual attraction of comfortable surf bathing was afforded. It is no exaggeration to estimate the crowd at Cordova Bay, one of the most popular beaches on the whole island, at something in the neighborhood of three thousand, the sun being literally black with people, and individual expeditions which foregathered on the shore during the course of the day. Cadboro Bay, another very popular resort of parents with children on account of the very gradual incline of the beach, was alive with bathers and merry-makers who found the broad expanse of sand favorable to the holding of games and races.

The nearby waters were also much in demand with those who were unable to go further afield for the day. Fowl Bay, always a favorite with swimmers who seek waters suitable both for paddling and diving, was quite the most populous around the Victoria coast yesterday, while Shoal Bay, James Bay, Ross Bay, Oak Bay and the Willows beach all had a large quota of swimmers or bathers. At Oak Bay and the Gorge boating was as general as bathing, although the heat in the afternoon did not invite exercise out of the water. The exceptional length of time during which the high temperature (82) lasted brought the temperature of the shore waters up to an unusual point, the thermometer at the weather bureau on Gonzales Heights remaining from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the same maximum point.

To-day conditions are much cooler. At noon the official temperature at Gonzales Heights was only 72, and a brisk breeze (indications of which were distinctly absent yesterday) was blowing, thus relieving matters still more. At Vancouver Dominion Day was celebrated under even warmer conditions, the maximum temperature reached being 86. At Penticton 87 was registered, at Kamloops 90, at Nelson 84. Other Dominion points showed a wide diversity of temperature. In Saskatchewan the highest temperature recorded was about 59, rain falling during the day. In Ontario the maximum heat wave has not yet made its appearance. Toronto yesterday passing the holiday in the comparatively cool temperature of 62. At Montreal 75 degrees was registered, at St. John's, N. B. 66. At Manitoba the highest temperature of the day was recorded at Minnedosa, with 56. The local weather was borne out all down the Pacific coast. In the Sacramento valley the heat mounted to 100 degrees. At Roseburg, Southern Oregon, 98 was recorded. At Portland, where the official thermometer is at the top of the highest building in the city, 96 was recorded, and in Seattle, at the top of the Smith building, 88. Reports from meteorological centres through the west indicate that the heat wave is moving east.

The many big Sunday school and other organized picnics were thoroughly successful as a result of the fine weather. Hundreds joined the Retail Merchants' association excursion to Seattle. All outgoing conveyances and the E. & N. V. & S. and Interurban railway were crowded as far as the remotest picnic grounds and bathing resorts both inland and at the sea. The Welsh society, St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Emmanuel and First Baptist Sunday schools, and others turned out in full force. Every conceivable conveyance was requisitioned to carry people to and from the city, and street cars and jitneys were quite inadequate for the abnormal traffic.

BANK CLEARINGS

Some Statistics for the Month; Small Fire Loss.

The bank clearings for the week ending yesterday were $1,262,688, and for the month of June $5,357,043. This latter figure compares with $10,915,671 in June, 1914, and $15,180,040 in the corresponding month of 1913.

The loss by fire last month was $5,450, of which $3,398 was on buildings, and the balance on contents, protecting an insurance of $234,850. Nine box alarms, and 22 telephone alarms were received. The department used 488 gallons of chemicals, and laid 15,550 feet of hose. The building permits for the month were $14,150, compared with $229,740 twelve months ago. A building permit has been issued to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tappin for a house at 2526 Graham street.

WHEN GREAT SEAL WAS LOST.

History records the irrecoverable loss of only one Great Seal—the first of George III. This event occurred when Lord Thurlow was lord chancellor. One morning in March, 1784, his lordship's residence in Great Ormond street was broken into by burglars, who carried off the Great Seal, along with a sum of money and two silver-hilted swords. The privy council was summoned to deal with this great emergency, and the royal engraver was ordered to produce another Great Seal, which he did in 36 hours, by working day and night. Lord Thurlow always slept with the new seal under his pillow during the subsequent years he was lord chancellor.

OUTBREAK OF REBELS QUICKLY QUELLED

Johannesburg Business Man Describes Recent Conditions in Transvaal

That loyal Boer commandoes were used to control the rebel outbreaks in the Transvaal to a large extent was the statement this morning of H. E. Harris, manager of the Denver Rock Drill & Machinery Co., Ltd., who with Mrs. Harris and family arrived on the Makura yesterday from Australia. Mr. Harris' headquarters are in Johannesburg, and he has resided in the centre of the Rand during the strenuous time of the riots two years ago and the recent insurrection. He just missed the anti-German outbreak precipitated by the sinking of the Lusitania, which occurred the day after the party left Johannesburg for Durban.

"The use of the Boer commandoes," Mr. Harris said, "was to avoid intensifying the differences between Britons and Boers in South Africa, and some of the hardest fighting in the insurrection took place between loyal and rebel Dutchmen. The whole of the police from the towns were called out to suppress the rising, and the towns were policed by civilians. All the towns had compounds into which the rebels were brought, and at Kimberley, when I visited there were 2,000, and at Johannesburg 1,500, while it was necessary to intern a number of Germans of whom we have many on the Rand.

"After the insurrection, the commandoes were called out for the German campaign, and there was a muster of hundreds from the Rand for the campaign in German Southwest Africa. We contributed 18,000, most of them of British birth, for the German movement. General Botha had some 60,000 men under his control, not all of whom are in S. W. Africa, when I left Johannesburg in May.

"With regard to the sentence on De Wet, it goes as far as public sentiment in South Africa was willing to concede, for we all anticipated that it would be an impolitic thing to execute him, and thereby jeopardize Boer support."

Mr. Harris did not agree that if the general election scheduled for September comes off in the Union, the labor gains will show a material advance as appeared to be the case some months ago. He says that the labor party was successful in the provincial council elections recently, but its administration has not strengthened the general position of the labor party in the country.

"There has been continued," he stated, "considerable activity in the stand, and the gold mines at Kimberley, Jagersfontein, etc., are closed down because of the war."

RESIGNATION FROM SUPERINTENDENCY

W. C. Winkel Refuses to Remain While Council is Allegedly Apathetic

The superintendent of the Municipal Free Labor bureau has followed the example of his predecessor and resigned. Mr. Winkel explains his position graphically as "refusing any longer to fire a wooden gun."

The reason for the resignation, which has been tendered to the civic committee recently appointed to control the bureau, is that no public work has been inaugurated to deal with the unemployed, that he has not the discretion meanwhile to give relief to certain necessitous cases (such relief being handled through the Friendly Help association,) and that the public is not supporting the bureau in the way it should.

Mr. Winkel says he would have withdrawn with Dr. J. J. Millar, who organized the bureau, but that he felt he could have been of some service to the unemployed who want sympathetic treatment, and some more tangible encouragement than the promises he has been forced to give.

"It is merely a registration bureau," he stated, "and not an employment bureau, for only some 18 per cent. of the registrations are found work, and I want to be associated with some real work for the men."

The matter will be reported by the managing committee to the council in due course. Mr. Winkel has asked to be relieved of his engagement as soon as possible.

CAVOUR'S SPEECH.

Among the Anglo-Italian reminiscences which come to the mind, just now there is a pleasant place for Cavour's visits to England in the days before he had become famous, while he was still mainly a student of agriculture and economics. An event of which nobody realized the significance at the time took place at a dinner of the Royal Geographical Society, to which he went as a guest. The secretary surprised him by proposing his health.

Cavour, on his legs as an orator for the first time, got out a few neat words and sat down, remarking to his neighbor, Lord Ripon, "C'est mon maiden speech!" He declared about this time his opinion that there was no sight in the world equal to the Life Guards on their black horses.

REACH SETTLEMENT ON WATER ISSUE

City Will Sell Half-Interest in Two Boundary Mains to Saanich

The city council water committee and the Saanich council have reached a settlement on the portion of the system to be acquired from the city.

The portion of the abandoned Elk Lake waterworks to be sold will not embrace the 12-inch cast iron main, because although the Saanich representatives, who included the reeve, members of the council, the municipal engineer and the clerk, made a bid for this main, the city water committee will not recommend to the council that it should be sold. No negotiations were opened with regard to the riveted steel main, of which the usefulness appears to have been expended.

The city committee will recommend the sale of the half interest in two boundary mains—those on Gorge road and Tolmie avenue, to Saanich. The district council will not purchase the metres, as contracts for these metres, to be supplied elsewhere, have already been entered into. The Saanich representatives expressed themselves satisfied with the suggestions made.

The decisions of the committee mentioned above were made at a private session after the Saanich councilors had withdrawn. There were present the mayor, Aldermen Porter, McNeill, Todd, the water commissioner and the city comptroller.

At this private meeting it was decided in connection with the Sooks waterworks that the Canadian Northern railway, in return for the gift of right-of-way for the pipe line, should be supplied water free, and that the use of a gravel pit at the lake should be allowed to the company.

This afternoon the streets committee of the council is in session. A final decision with regard to Prior street improvements, which have been hanging in abeyance for some time, will be made at the meeting.

ASQUITH TO SALANDRA.

Mr. Asquith's inspiring message to Signor Salandra is not more glowing than was Mr. Gladstone's when he welcomed Garibaldi to London in 1864. Years afterwards, when Italian unity had been achieved, Mr. Gladstone could speak with the same enthusiasm: "Garibaldi, Cavour, Victor Emmanuel, these three names together form for Italians a tricolor as brilliant, as fresh, and I hope as enduring, for many and many generations, as that national flag which now waves over a united Italy."

The Hundred Ways Which Don't End Corns

Perhaps you say—"I've tried and tried, but found nothing that ends a corn."

You might keep trying for years, Madam. There are a hundred ways which don't. Most of them are very much alike.

But remember this:

There is one way which has removed 70 million corns. It is now removing half the corns that grow.

It's a plaster which contains a bit of wondrous wax. It ends the corn pain in a jiffy. It ends the corn itself in two days. It gently loosens the corn until it comes out without any pain or soreness.

When you merely pare corns—

Bear this in mind. There are folks all around you—users of Blue-jay—who never suffer corns. You are wronging yourself when you fail to do what they do.

LOCAL NEWS

W. C. T. U. Mission Board.—The regular monthly meeting of the mission board will be held on Saturday at 3 o'clock, at the W. C. T. U. Men's Mission, Store street.

Sugar Planter Here.—A sugar planter from the Hawaiian Islands, J. Watt, who with his son, R. G. Watt, arrived on R. M. S. Makura last evening from the territory, and is staying at the Empress hotel, foresees the ruin of the industry when the sugar tariff is changed. Mr. Watt points out that the planter in the Philippines can undersell with cheaper labor, and that only three or four men in the Hawaiian Islands will be able to stand the strain of the change when it comes. The pineapple industry is considerable, but it does not take a place beside the sugar plantations as a staple article of commerce.

Phoenix Stout. $1.50 per doz. quarts.

Name Omitted.—By an error the name of Miss Vivian Mogrey was omitted from the prize-list of St. George's school appearing in a recent issue. The pupil in question was the winner of the prize for perfect attendance.

S. P. C. A. Report.—The S. P. C. A. inspector's report for the month of June showed that twenty-one cases were dealt with during that period as follows: Horses, 9; dogs, 8; fowls, 2; horses condemned, 2.

Will Preach on Sunday.—Rev. John G. Gibson, of the Methodist marine mission, who has volunteered and been accepted as a member of the B. C. Military hospital, has consented to take the morning and evening services at the Centennial Methodist church on Sunday. Mr. Gibson is said to be a very fine speaker.

Supreme Court Chambers.—Mr. Justice Macdonald, of Vancouver, will take chambers in the supreme court during the long legal vacation. Notice was received by Harvey Combe today to this effect. The day each week on which supreme court applications will be heard is Thursday, and the court will sit at 10.30 a. m. Next Thursday will be the first vacation sitting.

Imperial Unity Lunch.—The Rotary club will hold an Imperial Unity lunch next Thursday. Mr. E. Gossell, private secretary to Sir Richard McBride, will speak. The premier is to be invited to attend. There are to be other items on the programme, the meeting being held at the Empress hotel as usual.

Felled Tall Tree.—John Y. Margison, Sooke, who was fined in the provincial police court a couple of days ago for damage done to a neighbor's property, was felling a very tall tree, somewhere about one hundred feet in height, and felled it the wrong way, so that it fell on his neighbor's property instead of his own. He did not trespass on the property except in the technical sense.

Will Preach Again.—The Rev. W. J. Forbes Robertson, of Melita, Manx, has been prevailed on to preach again in the First Congregational church, corner of Quadra and Mason streets on Sunday next, July 4, both morning and evening. His morning subject will be "The Grounds of the Christian's Hope," and his evening subject, "The Christian's Duty." All friends and strangers will be welcomed.

King's Daughters.—The last meeting of the King's Daughters before the long vacation took place on Wednesday morning, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, the district secretary, in the chair. The reports showed that about sixty girls had been using the rooms daily during the past month, and in order to give the voluntary helpers a rest for the next two months a paid helper will be employed to do the necessary work. The meeting passed a vote of condolence with Miss Lawson who had recently suffered bereavement in the death of her mother. Donations were acknowledged from Mrs. R. B. McKicking, who gave linen; and Messrs. David Spencer for a welcome cheque. The order decided reluctantly to abandon the rose show owing to the earliness of the season and the pressure of other interests.

Alleged Threatened Shooting.—Early this morning John Robbins, an expressman, threatened it is said, to shoot his neighbor, Charles Decker, 232 Dallas road, and he was placed under arrest by Sergeant Blackstock and Constable Florence, who were called to the house. Robbins lives in a small shack behind Mr. Beneman's house, and he was given notice to get out of this, the premises having been condemned and their demolition at once being decided upon by the owner. As Robbins had refused to leave the landlord went to the house at midnight, upon which Robbins, it is alleged, pointed a shotgun at him. This morning in city police court the case was remanded until to-morrow.

HEAVY FINES IMPOSED

Licensee of Burnside Hotel is Convicted on Two Charges of Selling.

A double conviction was registered against George H. Patton, the proprietor and licensee of the Burnside hotel, in the Saanich police court today by Magistrate Jay. There were two charges against the licensee, one of having sold liquor after hours, on June 25, and the other of selling to a minor. On both he was fined $100, with the alternative of a month in jail in each case.

His worship held that the story told by the two white girls who had been heard was worthy of credence, and that there was no reason to doubt that the sale had taken place. His worship had no doubt that the house had been doing this sort of business for some time.

Authority Granted.—At the meeting of the city streets committee this afternoon, authority was given Percy Fox, architect, on behalf of Spencer's Ltd., to construct a tunnel under Broad street in order to give access to a new two-story block which is to be built immediately on the "burnt area."

Charged With Stealing.—Hong Kow was charged in the city police court today with stealing a gun from Mr. Grant, Gordon Head. He was arrested on Mr. Grant's complaint yesterday afternoon, and in police court today the case was adjourned until to-morrow.

May Hit the Moneybags.—The moneybags which escaped from the Japanese tea gardens at the Gorge created a lot of excitement in the vicinity of Gorge road and Washington avenue on Wednesday evening. The little animal was perched in the trees and frightened several people by sudden appearances and by snatching at ladies' headgear. Boys tried to get it but their efforts were in vain. Yesterday and to-day several reporters were received at the station of the monkey being seen, and permission was given by the owners to shoot it if it cannot be captured.

RECRUITING OFFICER GOING UP-ISLAND

Captain J. R. Roaf Will Visit
Recruiting Points Next Week

Captain J. R. Roaf is leaving on Monday for a recruiting trip through Vancouver Island. His itinerary is as follows: Monday, July 5, Courtenay; Tuesday, July 6, Parksville; Wednesday, July 7, Alberni; Thursday, July 8, Nanaimo; Friday, July 9, Duncan and Cobble Hill. Capt. Roaf is taking with him one non-commissioned officer and a medical officer, the latter in order that recruits can be examined at the various points as they present themselves, thus saving time and making for mutual convenience. Notices will be posted in the different districts announcing the qualifications, etc., for enlistment.

Colonel Ogilvie, who spent last week-end on a visit of inspection at the new training camp, reported on his return yesterday that there were about 2,500 men already under canvas. The enlistment for the 62nd battalion now being formed is proceeding well, and the requisite number were expected to be available within a short time, and the unit will be assembled at the Vernon camp at the earliest possible moment.

There are still vacancies both in the ranks of the 88th Fusiliers and the 50th Gordon Highlanders before the full complement authorized for recruiting for the new battalion through these two regiments is reached.

The following is a report from Vernon:

Capt. Anthony Turner, of Victoria and "D" company, 259 strong, have been drafted as the first overseas detachment which the 54th Kootenay battalion will send to the front. The 54th is at the present time over strength and in addition to its full complement of 1,900 men it has a base company of 125, its total strength being 1,150 officers and men. Its recruiting territory consists virtually of the whole of the interior. There are 100 or more men in Fort George who have volunteered to serve with Col. W. M. Davis or in detachments sent by the 54th to the front.

Lieut. C. E. Bentley, of Princeton, platoon commander in the company, left yesterday for Ottawa to attend the school of musketry at Rockfield.

Colquhoun, is expected to join "D" company. Skamloops, Revelstoke, Cariboo and Similkameen men are in "D" company.

Mrs. F. Foster and her daughter May left Thursday for Vancouver to spend the week-end in the Terminal City.

Rev. J. B. Warnick celebrated the marriage of Mabel, daughter of Mrs. Germaine, of New York City, and Richard Frank Jennings, recently of Bury St. Edmunds, England, on Tuesday, June 29, at the parsonage, 533 Harbinger avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Jennings left immediately for Seattle, where they will make their home.

The marriage of John Ross, recently of Edinburgh, Scotland, and Miss Margaret Heron Gellatly, of Dundee, Scotland, was quietly celebrated in the vestry of the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday, June 29, by Rev. J. G. Inkster. The bride, who wore her traveling costume of Belgian blue with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses, was attended by Miss Inez Vey. The best man was E. Carlin. Mr. and Mrs. Ross, who are making a honeymoon trip to Seattle, Tacoma, and other coast cities, will return to Victoria to make their home here.

COURT HEARS APPEALS AGAINST ASSESSMENTS

Property Values Discussed by Valuators; Some Lots Not Worth Owning

That there is some property in Victoria which is not likely to be of any investment use for some time to come was the evidence given this morning by two realty valuers in the county court. The cost of local improvements and the consequent taxation, have, it was testified, made some property non-revenue producing.

The statements were made before Judge Lampman in connection with appeals which his honor is hearing today, and which have been brought by property owners who object to the assessments as made by the city assessor and approved by the court of revision.

The appeals, about twelve in all, were taken together as the evidence is to be the same in practically all the cases.

Raymond Power and R. S. Oddy, the latter with 25 years' local estate experience in Victoria, were the witnesses who testified this morning. They spoke in regard to property owned by the Taylor Mill company, Queen's avenue, Government and Bay streets. The property in regard to which they were not optimistic comprised lots 6, 7, 8, 9, the first three being assessed for $13,800 and the last for $20,950. Mr. Power estimated the taxable value of the lots at $12,000, $11,500, $9,000 and $13,500, and Mr. Oddy said they could be placed at the 1910 valuation. Mr. Oddy said he would fix all Victoria valuations at the 1910 value for the present year. There was, however, this difference. In 1910 the owners were facing a rising market with improvement in prices of real estate, while to-day the position was the reverse, and there did not seem to be a possibility of any immediate rise in the realty market.

It was pointed out on behalf of the appellants that the government had decided to lease the waterfront on the Songhees reserve for manufacturing purposes, and that when this was done in the future, the value of Rock Bay waterfront would be decreased, as it would have waterfrontage and trackage, which Rock Bay cannot get.

It was also said that the once proposed harbor railway had been a cause of the enhanced values set on Rock Bay waterfrontage, and when this plan came to naught the enhanced values stayed, while the chance for improvement vanished.

In regard to lots 6, 7, 8, 9, it was said that they were bordered by a tannery, and a gas works with a sewer exit at the rear. Judge Lampman, searching after past marketable values, asked what these lots could have been sold for a few years ago, and was told they were not for sale for them. They were, said the witnesses, very poor property, and were worth nothing if not for waterfront purposes. The only inquiry on the waterfront during boom days, one witness said, was of a speculative nature. There had been very little industry started along there. With but a few inches of water depth, and a bridge to hamper operators, there was very little value in them.

Mr. Oddy referred to the improvements which had been made on property frontage. He said on Douglas street from Pembroke street to the city boundary Douglas street had been killed absolutely because the witnesses could not possibly pay taxes. He mentioned the fact that of twelve stores in one part, there was but one rented.

The Taylor Mill Company, he said, owned three lots

THINKS DIVISION OF ISLANDS WILL FOLLOW

Col. Burns Believes German Islands Will Be Split Between Present Occupants

One of the leading shipping men of Australia, Col. the Hon. James Burns, of Sydney, was among the arrivals on the Makura from Australia last evening, en route to London. He was accompanied by two daughters.

Col. Burns is associated with the Burns-Phillip mail line, which operates steamers to Java, Singapore, Northern Queensland and the islands in the Pacific.

In the course of a chat with the Times, Col. Burns said:

"Our line is recovering the trade of the former German islands in the Pacific, where we originally traded, but were displaced. The future of the islands, which were seized by Germany in the eighties, and are now under Australian military occupation, is very much in doubt, but the impression prevails in Australia that Japan will retain the groups north of the equator, of which she is in possession. The Commonwealth trade and its political safety demands that those in the Bismarck archipelago as well as German New Guinea should be retained. Our line has already reopened trade with the settlements.

"The rally to the colors in Australia assures us that the expectation of 100,000 men for overseas service, apart from those at home, will be realized. The losses in the Dardanelles have brought home the meaning of war to the people of the country. I have two sons at the front, one at the Dardanelles, and the same applies to every household in the country. Australia realizes her position now in a way that has never been appreciated in the past. New Zealand is also sending a large number of men to the front, and in proportion to population the Antipodes is certainly doing its duty.

"The shortage of passenger shipping overseas, the vessels being used for transports, has made a considerable difference to our trade. As a matter of fact I had intended to go to England by way of the Cape, but the sailing of the steamer was cancelled."

The colonel, who formerly commanded the New South Wales Lancers, and later the First Australian Mounted Brigade, of which he was the head for three years, holds his title of "honorable" as a member of the New South Wales legislative council.

UNEMPLOYMENT POLICY OF CABINET IS FIXED

Hon. W. J. Bowser Makes Statement as to What Position His Government Takes

Some days ago the city of Vancouver made a request for assistance from the government in dealing with the matter of unemployment in that city, and the answer made by the government was that it would loan the city $10,000 a month for the next three months, this total sum of $30,000 to be repaid on September 16, 1916, with interest at the rate of six per cent. In explanation of the general policy of the provincial government in this matter, Hon. W. J. Bowser, acting premier, writes Mayor Taylor, of Vancouver, as follows:

"We always try, in administering the public affairs, to handle the people's money, of which we are the trustees, in the same way as a business man would handle his own money; but, of course, with an unemployed situation such as now exists in the province, it is, perhaps, pardonable to expend monies a little differently from the manner in which an ordinary man would."

"We feel that it would be but a very poor investment for the government to clear up those lands at Point Grey, as there is no evidence of there being any likelihood of people leasing the lands after our clearing them, at a reasonable rental; and, no doubt, after a short time, a second growth would soon cover all this land."

"We have laid down a policy, which we have followed closely all through this season, in connection with the unemployed situation, viz.: We have divided our responsibility, the government taking charge of the unemployed in the unorganized districts, and the municipalities taking care of their unemployed whenever they have found it possible. In cases where the cities have not the funds we have been willing to advance monies by way of loans to the various municipalities, on the understanding that it would be repaid out of this year's taxes."

HEROIC CHAPLAIN.

Reuter's special correspondent at Athens telegraphs that among the fifty hostages of British and French nationality who were sent by Enver Pasha to the island of Lesbos, the Rev. Dr. Wigram, chaplain to the Crimean Memorial church in Constantinople, "who insisted on taking the place of one of the men." The fifty have since been brought back to Constantinople as a result of Sir Edward Grey's resolute message warning Enver Pasha and other Turkish minister that they would be held responsible for any casualties to these men.

According to the Clergy List, the Rev. Dr. William Alinger Wigram, after holding curacies in South Shields and Sunderland, worked as a missionary in Persia and Turkey from 1902 to 1912.

NEW TEACHERS CHOSEN

Three Vacancies in High School, and Three in Graded Schools Are Filled.

A sequel to the situation in California, where Canadian teachers were recently threatened with the loss of their positions, came in the meeting of the city school board on Wednesday evening. Samuel G. McLean, who was appointed a commercial instructor at the High school, announced in his application that he was leaving the Sacramento High school on that ground this term.

Mr. McLean is a graduate of Brandon university, and has high recommendations.

Two Latin masters were appointed in the same school, C. W. Cornett, B. A., and L. J. Cranston, B. A. The former is a graduate of Victoria college, Toronto, and Mr. Cranston qualified at the University of Manitoba. Mr. Cranston has recently been principal of the Cranbrook High school. Mr. Cornett comes here from Pentlton.

On the first ballot for three positions, one male and two female, in the graded school, Miss Lily O. Townsend and W. H. Muncy were appointed, and after further ballots Miss Muncy F. Stewart was selected for the other vacancy. Mr. Muncy has been teaching for the last year at Shawigan, coming here from Karachi, India.

The buildings and grounds committee will examine and make a report to the meeting to be held on July 14 on the improvements and repairs to be effected during the holidays.

From the observation of Major Riddell, chairman of the committee, it appears that the suggestions are too comprehensive for the funds available, and that there will have to be considerable pruning done before the works are authorized.

J. W. Gibson, on behalf of the department of education for which he is director of elementary agricultural education, was suggesting the arrangements to be introduced for taking care of the school gardens during the summer vacation. He recommended that a definite scheme for the care thereof, by appointing a person to look after them, sonality, and his thorough sincerity and rugged Scottish honesty of purpose were characteristics which earned the respect of even his most bitter political opponents. As a speaker and political writer he had few equals in the west, and his incisive style rendered it a pleasure to hear him read one of his articles. In social life he was very popular, and his home was the centre of attraction for a numerous circle of intimate friends. He was a member of the Pacific club and of the Victoria Golf club.

H. C. Brewster, leader of the Liberal party in British Columbia, before leaving for the west coast last evening, said to the Times:

"The loss of Mr. Ross is a calamity one to the province and the Dominion. Personally I have lost a very dear friend, and a man in whose opinion I had always the greatest confidence. Mr. Ross was a man of the most scrupulous honor and integrity and of splendid principle."

"In the councils of the Liberal party he was ever listened to with the utmost deference, and his views were always worth all the attention they received. In all the years he lived in this province he took a deep concern in all that affected its present and future, and he always worked with a single eye to the success of the policies which he was convinced were best for the country. He was an inspiration to myself and every other Liberal in the province and he had a faith in the ultimate success of the Liberal policy which never failed to impress itself upon us."

"Mr. Ross was personally a most likeable man, genial, generous, warm-hearted, sincere, and his death will leave a blank which it will be long before we can forget, and which it will be very hard to fill. For myself and the party in British Columbia I must offer the heart-felt sympathy of every Liberal in the province to Mrs. Ross and her children in a loss which is so keen."

Hon. W. J. Bowser, acting premier, on learning of Mr. Ross' death, said: "I deeply regret it, and I share with the whole community the sorrow which will be felt at the passing, with such tragic suddenness, of one who was so popular, well known and so universally respected. Mr. Ross and I were, of course, political opponents but I met him very frequently in a social way and learned to admire his jovial and good-natured disposition and high character. He had already made a name for himself in a business way, and had he lived undoubtedly had before him a career which would have been marked with conspicuous success in commercial life."

In speaking to-day of what he termed the passing of a great Canadian, R. W. Perry, a past president of the Canadian club, with which Mr. Ross was always closely connected, said to the Times:

"In the death of the late Duncan Ross, Canada and the empire have suffered a loss hard to fill. I had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Ross in connection with the Canadian club and its welfare, as well as politically, and those of us in that club who have worked on the executive committee with Mr. Ross know full well his worth. He was ever ready to the very end to do anything that would better the working of the club and make it a success, and above all he was a real empire-builder. Confiding of that Scottish stock in old Ontario that commended themselves to the whole world and left nothing but the best in their sons, Mr. Ross carried that training with him daily. He was beloved by all who knew him, and his passing leaves a gap that his many friends greatly regret. To his widow and children the members of the club offer their sympathy in their great trial."

M. A. Macdonald, K. C., Vancouver, president of the Provincial Liberal association, expressed his regret and said he was greatly shocked to hear of Mr. Ross' death.

"He was," he said, "a splendid type of the best of Canadian citizenship of sturdy Scottish stock. He was loyal to his friends and generous to a fault. He leaves behind him hosts of friends who will deplore his untimely demise."

"On every hand in this city to-day expressions of regret are heard from friends and acquaintances of the late Mr. Ross, and general sympathy is expressed with Mrs. Ross and her children."

WAS ACTIVE ON W. A.

Mrs. Agnes Jane Elmhirst, Who Passed Away Yesterday, Leaves Many Friends.

The death occurred very suddenly yesterday, at the Royal Jubilee hospital, of Mrs. Agnes Jane Elmhirst. The deceased lady, who was a native of Kent, England, was the wife of Alfred Victor Elmhirst, and was 37 years of age.

She was very well known in the city, having been an active worker in the Women's Auxiliary to Missions and kindred objects, and news of her death was received with sincere sorrow and keen regret by members of the diocesan board, on which she was a valued officer. For nine years she very faithfully filled the office of recording-secretary, and had endeavored herself to every member with whom she came in contact owing to her gentle goodness and enthusiasm in the work. Heartfelt sympathy has been expressed by the auxiliary to Mr. Elmhirst in his sorrow, also to the workers of St. Barnabas church, who will sorely miss one whose faithful and consistent work has been long valued and appreciated. The auxiliary motto to her was the motive power of her earnest work and useful life.

Besides her husband Mrs. Elmhirst is survived by her father, mother, four sisters and four brothers, at Brandon, Manitoba.

SAANICH RESIDENT DIES

William McMillan, of Royal Oak, Was Dominion Forestry Inspector for Fifteen Years.

A well-known resident of the Saanich district succumbed yesterday in the death of William McMillan, of "Hilldale," Royal Oak.

The late Mr. McMillan, a native of Paisley, Scotland, had lived in the Dominion for fifty years, the last eight of which were spent in retirement in this district. After coming to Canada in the early '70s he moved about quite considerably, for some years living at Carberry, Man., while for fifteen years he was employed by the Dominion government as homestead and forestry inspector. At the time of his death he was 75 years of age, and leaves besides his widow (dying at Royal Oak) six sons and two daughters, all of whom with the exception of one son, living in Washington, being resident in the Dominion.

The funeral will take place on Monday at 2:15 from the residence, and fifteen minutes later from St. Michael's, Royal Oak. Rev. Thomas Hadlow officiating. Interment will be at St. Michael's cemetery. The remains will be at the B. C. funeral parlors until noon on Monday.
